SECTION 1 - Introduction and Background

The City of San Bruno ("City") owns and maintains its storm drain collection system, which collects and distributes stormwater over six main watersheds. In 2014, The City commissioned a Storm Drain Master Plan ("Plan") to identify the causes of flooding within the storm drain system and develop alternative improvements to address the flooding. The capacity analysis was based on a 25-year design storm and identified multiple capacity deficiencies in the storm water collection system. The Plan included recommendations to address the system's capacity deficiency.

The City identified approximately $22.9 million in general replacement of existing improvements and the Plan has identified another $26 million ($31 million – due to the rise in the construction cost index) for capacity improvements in existing facilities to accommodate a 25-year storm event, along with $1.36 million annually in system maintenance and operational costs. To date, none of the improvements identified in the Plan have been completed. The City's existing Storm Drainage and Flood Protection Fee does neither provides enough funding for regular maintenance of the existing system nor for all desirable repairs and replacements of elements of the deteriorated stormwater system. Currently, a General Fund transfer subsidizes the maintenance of the existing system. The City does not have current funding sources available to implement the recommended improvements in the Plan, and new funding sources are necessary to protect the public health and safety and alleviate flooding.

In August 2020, the City of San Bruno engaged Willdan to prepare this Fee Study. The purpose of this Study is to determine an equitable and legally permissible means of distributing a storm drain costs to each parcel within the City that is contributing to storm drain system. Since the impervious area of each parcel is an equitable means of determining a parcel's contribution to the storm drain system, and has been identified by the United States Environmental Protection Agency as "the most important factor influencing stormwater runoff"[1], the storm drain fee will be based on the impervious area of each parcel.

SECTION 1.1 PROPOSITION 218

Article XIII D, Section 6(b) of the California Constitution (a part of Proposition 218) Section 6.b requires that property-related fees, such as the fee proposed by this Study, meet the following requirements:

1. "Revenues derived from the fee or charge shall not exceed the funds required to provide the property-related service."

[1] EPA 901-F-09-004 Funding Stormwater Programs (April 2009)

2. "Revenues derived from the fee or charge shall not be used for any purpose other than that for which the fee or charge was imposed."
3. "The amount of fee or charge imposed upon any parcel or person as an incident of property ownership shall not exceed the proportional cost of the service attributable to the parcel."
4. "No fee or charge may be imposed for a service unless that service is actually used by, or immediately available to, the owner of the property in question. Fees or charges based on potential or future use of service are not permitted. Standby charges, whether characterized as charges or assessments, shall be classified as assessments and shall not be imposed without compliance with (the assessment section of this code).
5. "No fee or charge may be imposed for general governmental services including, but not limited to, police, fire, ambulance or library services where the service is available to the public at large in substantially the same manner as it is to the property owners.

The proposed Storm Drainage and Flood Protection Fee substantially meets all of these requirements. Compliance with Proposition 218 is discussed in detail in Section 6 of this report.

Basis of Fee Rate Structure

The City's storm drain system is self-contained; that is to say that properties not within the boundaries of the City do not discharge into the City's system, and the City's system does not discharge into the system of neighboring municipalities. All properties in the City discharge stormwater into the City's system. The stormwater system, by diverting stormwater into a guided and controlled path to specific discharge points, is critical for protecting against flooding.

In its Guide for Municipal Stormwater Funding, the Environmental Protection Agency states the following:

> Empirical studies have demonstrated that impervious surface area on a property is the single most significant factor influencing all of these impacts. Impervious area is also relatively easy to identify and quantify numerically and is the most common parameter used in stormwater service fee calculations.

In its natural state, soil absorbs rainwater. When a parcel is developed with impervious surfaces, soil on the parcel is covered with a waterproof, or near-waterproof, material. Consequently, the installation of impervious surfaces reduces the ability of the parcel to absorb rainwater and creates a need for a stormwater system that will manage runoff that is not absorbed by the parcel.

Consequently, the amount of impervious surface installed on a parcel, measured as a percentage of the total impervious surface installed throughout the City, is a good approximation of the percentage of citywide storm drain system costs that represents the parcel's use of the storm drain system.

Assignment of Impervious Square Footage

Reliable data sets exist regarding the square footage of parcels in the City. However, there is was no existing data set measuring only impervious square footage. Therefore, as part of its work developing the proposed fee, Willdan imputed the impervious square footage of each parcel in the City based on available data.

As discussed in more detail later in this Study, Willdan's process for assigning an impervious square footage involved three steps:

First, for each of the City's 14 zoning designations, Willdan determined an estimate of the typical percentage of parcel surface area within the zone that would consist of impervious surface. This percentage is the "percent impervious factor" (PIF) for that zoning designation. PIF's were based on a prior study done by Willdan in the City of Burlingame, with spot checks using ariel imagery to verify the appropriateness of these PIF's for San Bruno and customize the PIF's to be used. The PIF's developed in this process, as explained further in this study, are as follows:

Zoning*	Zoning Definition	Estimated PIF
R-1	Single-Family Residential	60%
R-2	Low Density Residential	70%
R-3	Medium Density Residential	85%
R-4	High Density Residential	85%
C	General Commercial	90%
C-B-D	Central Business District	95%
C-M	Commercial Manufacturing	95%
C-N	Neighborhood Commercial	95%
C-O	Community Office	90%
A-R	Administrative and Research	90%
M-1	Industrial	95%
O	Open Space/Urban Parkland	10%
P-D	Planned Development	Varies
Undesignated	Undesignated	95%

Second, each parcel in the City was assigned an imputed impervious square footage figure by multiplying the lot square footage of that parcel by the PIF for the zoning of the parcel.

Third, Willdan reviewed ariel imagery to identify "exceptions"—situations where the standard method of multiplying a parcel's lot square footage by the PIF for that parcel's zoning did not yield an appropriate estimation of the parcel's impervious square footage. The assigned square footages for such parcels were adjusted as necessary. Examples of such exceptions were parcels that were developed for a use other than the common use of property in their land use zone (for example a school in an open space zone) and parcels in subdivisions that were developed in a manner that was atypical of development throughout the City for that zoning (for example a single family subdivision with very large parcels that are largely left in a natural state).

Vacant, unimproved parcels are still in their natural states and therefore have no impervious surface area.

Determination of Fee Rate

The rate of the fee proposed by this Study is expressed as an annual rate per square foot of impervious surface. The rate was determined by dividing the annual systemwide anticipated storm drain expenditures by the total number of impervious square feet determined to exist in the service area of the storm drain system. That calculation was as follows:

$3.24 Million divided by 64,946,619 impervious sq. ft. =

Annual Fee of $0.0498859 per sq. ft. of impervious area

In order to keep pace with inflation, this fee will be subject to annual adjustments based on the San Francisco Bay Area Construction Cost Index (CCI) as published by Engineering News Record (ENR).

Collection & Adjustments

The fee for each parcel will be calculated based on the impervious square footage determined by Willdan. The City will establish an appeals process to consider claims that the fee as applied their parcel was incorrectly calculated based on the actual development of their parcel or other appropriate factors.

SECTION 2 – Impervious Surface and Factors

In its Guide for Municipal Stormwater Funding, the Environmental Protection Agency states the following:

> Empirical studies have demonstrated that impervious surface area on a property is the single most significant factor influencing all of these impacts. Impervious area is also relatively easy to identify and quantify numerically and is the most common parameter used in stormwater service fee calculations.

As such, the amount of impervious surface on each parcel has been selected as the factor that most accurately reflects the benefit each parcel receives from storm drain improvements.

SECTION 2.1 DEFINITION OF IMPERVIOUS SURFACE

A formal definition of an impervious surface can be found in the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Draft Report on the Environment (2003a): "Impervious surface: A hard surface area that either prevents or retards the entry of water into the soil mantle or causes water to run off the surface in greater quantities or at an increased rate of flow. Common impervious surfaces include, but are not limited to rooftops, walkways, patios, driveways, parking lots, storage areas, concrete or asphalt paving, and gravel roads."

Willdan requested assessor parcel and land use GIS data from the City. The request was forwarded to the City's GIS consultant, Lynx GIS. Lynx GIS then provided:

1. San Bruno city boundary GIS polygon
2. San Mateo County GIS parcels
3. San Mateo County secured roll data in Microsoft Access format
4. San Mateo County GIS street centerlines (for creating street name labels for exhibits)
5. City of San Bruno Zoning GIS polygons

SECTION 2.2 CALCULATION OF IMPERVIOUS SURFACE

The impervious area calculations for most parcels were based on estimated impervious area percentages calculated by Willdan for parcels within a specific land use zoning designation.

High resolution aerial imagery was needed to verify the adopted percent impervious factors. Aerial imagery was also used to identify exceptions. For example, if a school, park, or church lies within a Residential zoning district or a potable water tank within an Open Space zoning district, the default PIF for that land use will not accurately reflect the impervious surface for the exception.

Methodology for Calculating PIFs

Impervious factors that reflect local conditions specific to San Bruno were developed for this study. Densities in San Bruno are higher than average for other communities not so near to San Francisco. Impervious factor tables in County hydrology manuals provided some guidance in developing the impervious factors, but they do not appear to reflect the higher-than-average density in the San Francisco Peninsula, particularly in denser residential areas. As such, Willdan performed impervious area studies for each zoning district in San Bruno.

In 2008, Willdan Engineering developed an impervious factor table for a stormwater fee project for the City of Burlingame. Average impervious factors for the land use districts in Burlingame were calculated. Because of the similarities of the communities of San Bruno and Burlingame, the impervious factors developed for Burlingame were used to verify and supplement the impervious studies performed for San Bruno.

Impervious studies were performed by referring to aerial imagery to draw GIS polygons on the impervious areas within a study area. The GIS was used to sum the impervious square feet within the study area. The sum was then divided by the study area total square feet to obtain the impervious area factor for the study area.

Willdan also considered percent impervious factors in Alameda County and Los Angeles County hydrology manuals (San Mateo County's hydrology manual does not include percent impervious factors). Alameda County and Los Angeles County hydrology manual impervious factor tables are provided in the Appendix to this report. Calculations related to each zoning designation are described below.

San Bruno Single-Family Residential (R-1) Default Impervious Factor

One impervious factor study for Single Family Residential (R-1) parcels in San Bruno was performed:

San Bruno Study Area - SFR (R1): 14,565 SF; Impervious Area: 8,966 SF; Impervious Percentage: 62

Three studies for Single Family Residential (R-1) parcels in Burlingame were reviewed and compared to the San Bruno R-1 study. The following figures depict the results of those studies.

Burlingame SFR (R1) Study Area 1: 36,020 SF; Impervious Area: 24,160 SF; Impervious Percentage: 67

Burlingame SFR (R1) Study Area 2: 34,500 SF; Impervious Area: 20,583 SF; Impervious Percentage: 60

Burlingame SFR (R1) Study Area 3: 36,000 SF; Impervious Area: 20,009 SF; Impervious Percentage: 56

For R-1 parcels, the PIF for San Bruno is consistent with the PIF used for Burlingame. As a result of these studies, an impervious area factor of 60 percent was adopted for San Bruno R-1 parcels.

San Bruno Single-Family Residential (R-1) Exceptions

Two neighborhoods in the city contain the majority of the R-1 exception parcels. There are 75 long, narrow parcels that are situated on steep hillsides in a R1 single-family residential zoning district in the northwest portion of the city. These parcels have a larger than average area and a smaller than average impervious surface. The impervious area of each individual parcel was not calculated; instead the impervious areas of 10 representative parcels were calculated and the results of those calculations was averaged to obtain an impervious factor of 32 percent. This factor was applied to the 75 exception parcels in the two neighborhoods.

The following two figures depict the exception areas in the two neighborhoods.

R1 Parcels Impervious Exception Area 1

R1 Parcels Impervious Exception Area 2

Low Density Residential (R-2) Default PIF

Willdan performed an impervious study for a block of homes in one of San Bruno's R-2 zoning districts.

San Bruno Study Area – R2 Zoning District: 118,030 SF; Impervious Area: 82,623 SF; Impervious Percentage: 70

Willdan also referred to a study performed for the City of Burlingame to help confirm the impervious factor for parcels in the San Bruno R-2 zoning districts.

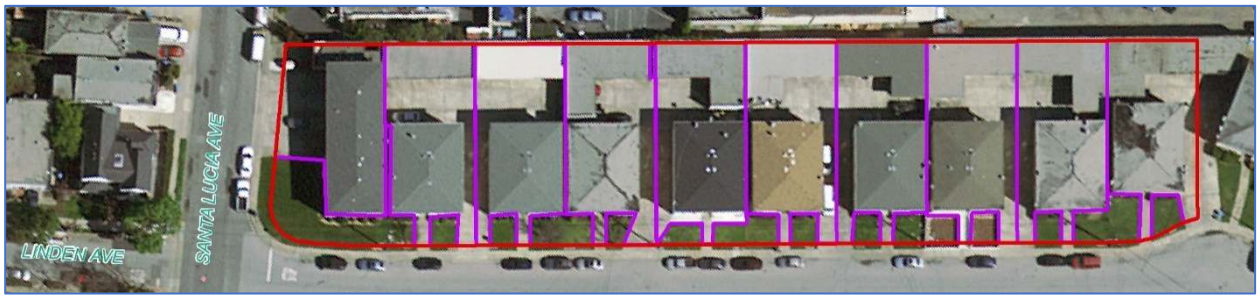
Burlingame Study Area - Duplex (R2): 49,100 SF; Impervious Area: 35,000 SF; Impervious Percentage: 71

The results of the studies in both cities were consistent. As such, an impervious area factor of 70 percent was adopted for San Bruno R-2 zoned parcels.

No exceptions were identified.

High-Density Residential (R-3) Default PIF

One study for the City of San Bruno and two studies for the City of Burlingame were used to determine the impervious factor for San Bruno R-3 zoning districts.



San Bruno Study Area – R-3: 56,391 SF; Impervious Area: 49,234 SF; Impervious Percentage: 87

Burlingame Study Area 1 – R-3: 72,400 SF; Impervious Area: 63,800 SF; Impervious Percentage: 88

Burlingame Study Area 2 – R-3: 44,400 SF; Impervious Area: 36,900 SF; Impervious Percentage: 83

The factors in both cities were consistent. As such, an impervious area factor of 85 percent was adopted for San Bruno R-3 parcels.

No exceptions were identified.

High-Density Residential (R-4) Zoning Districts Default PIF

High-Density Residential PIFs tend to be consistent across different jurisdictions. As such, a previously prepared study for the City of Burlingame was used as the primary factor in determining the impervious factor for San Bruno R-4 apartment buildings, condominiums or other high-density residential land uses.

Burlingame Study Area – R-4: 45,000 SF; Impervious Area: 39,120 SF; Impervious Percentage: 87

Impervious factors from Alameda and Los Angeles County hydrology manuals were also considered and showed consistent measurements. An impervious area factor of 85 percent was adopted for San Bruno R-4 parcels.

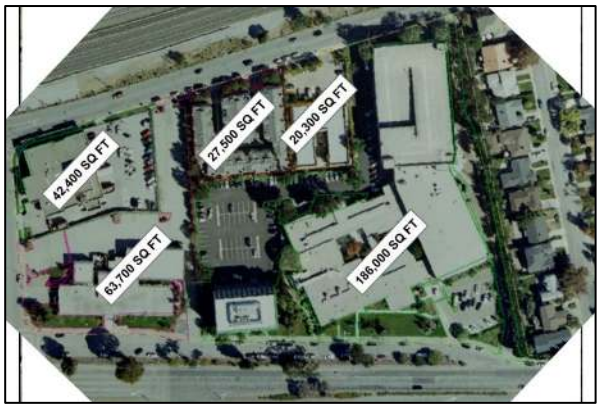
No exceptions were identified.

General Commercial (C) Zoning Districts Default PIF

Willdan performed an impervious study for a study area consisting of 11 parcels in one of San Bruno's General Commercial (C) zoning districts.

San Bruno Study Area – C: 60519 SF; Impervious Area: 53,792 SF; Impervious Percentage: 89

Two studies for the City of Burlingame were also used to help determine the impervious factor for San Bruno Commercial zoning districts.



Commercial (C) Study Area 1: Impervious Area: 340,000 SF; Impervious Percentage: 83

Commercial (C) Study Area 2: Impervious Area: 166,000 SF; Impervious Percentage: 92

Los Angeles County hydrology manual impervious factors were also considered. Based on the consistent results of these sources, an impervious factor of 90 percent was adopted for the City of San Bruno.

No exceptions were identified.

A-R Zoning District

The following figure depicts an impervious area analysis for a parcel in San Bruno's Administrative & Research (A-R) zoning district.

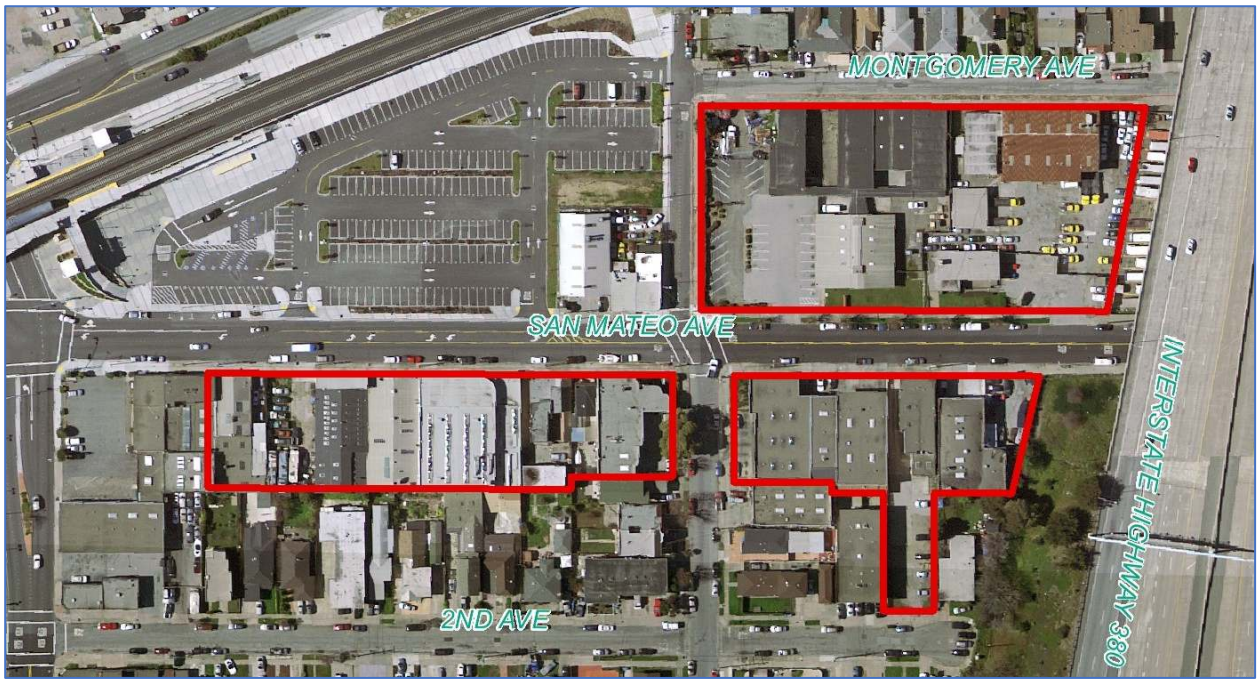
San Bruno A-R Study Area: 70,726 SF; Impervious Area: 62,547 SF; Impervious Percentage: 88

The characteristics of A-R zoned parcels appear to be similar to Commercial (C) parcels. As such, an impervious factor of 90 percent was adopted for San Bruno A-R parcels.

No exceptions were identified.

Industrial, Central Business District, Neighborhood Commercial and Commercial Manufacturing Zoning Districts Default PIF

Aerial imagery was used to determine the impervious factors for Industrial, Central Business District, Neighborhood Commercial and Commercial Manufacturing zoning districts. No impervious areas were seen on aerial imagery in any of these districts, except for an occasional small patch of landscaping. All examples appear to almost 100 percent impervious. The following figure provides an example of aerial imagery for a set of parcels (outlined in red) located in a San Bruno Commercial C-M zoning district.



San Bruno C-M Study Area

To account for the occasional small pervious areas, an impervious factor of 95 percent was adopted for Industrial, Central Business District, Neighborhood Commercial and Commercial Manufacturing Zoning Districts.

No exceptions were identified.

Open Space (O) Zoning Districts Default PIF

A factor of 10 percent impervious was adopted for Open Space zoning districts. This is a standard value commonly used in hydrology studies. The 10 percent factor accounts for sidewalks, restrooms and parking areas in parks and other outdoor recreational spaces. Alameda County's and Los Angeles County's hydrology manuals both list the impervious factor for open space parcels as 10 percent.

Open Space (O) Zoning Districts Exceptions

An example of an exception parcel in an Open Space zoning district is Crestmoor Elementary School. The impervious area of this parcel was calculated to be 30 percent. Studies on exceptions are shown below.

O Zoning District Exception Parcel – Crestmoor Elementary School: 111,477 SF; Impervious Area: 54,106; Impervious Percentage: 30

Another example of an Open Space zoning district exception parcel was this water storage facility with tank, driveways, pavement and structures (shown below). The impervious area of this parcel was calculated to be 49 percent.

O Zoning District Exception Parcel – Water Storage Facility: 111,477 SF; Impervious Area: 54,106; Impervious Percentage: 49

Note that the facility appears to have been under construction when the USGS imagery shown above was taken. Google Earth imagery and street view, which appears to be more recent, was used to help define the impervious area of the parcel.

Google Earth Imagery – Water Storage Facility

Planned Development (P-D) Zoning Districts

Various land uses are allowed in Planned Development zoning districts. A single impervious factor could not be assigned. It was necessary to use imagery to determine the land uses on all P-D zoned parcels.

P-D zoned parcels observed to have commercial or office building land uses were assigned an impervious factor of 90 percent, since parcels in General Commercial and Community Office zoning districts are also assigned an impervious factor of 90 percent. A hotel and a post office were also assigned an impervious factor of 90 percent. A parking lot that appeared to be completely covered with pavement was assigned an impervious factor of 95 percent.

Condominiums, townhomes and apartment buildings were assigned the 85 percent impervious factor for high-density residential land uses. Several vacant parcels with no impervious surfaces on them were assigned a 0 percent impervious factor, since it is unknown what the ultimate land use will be.

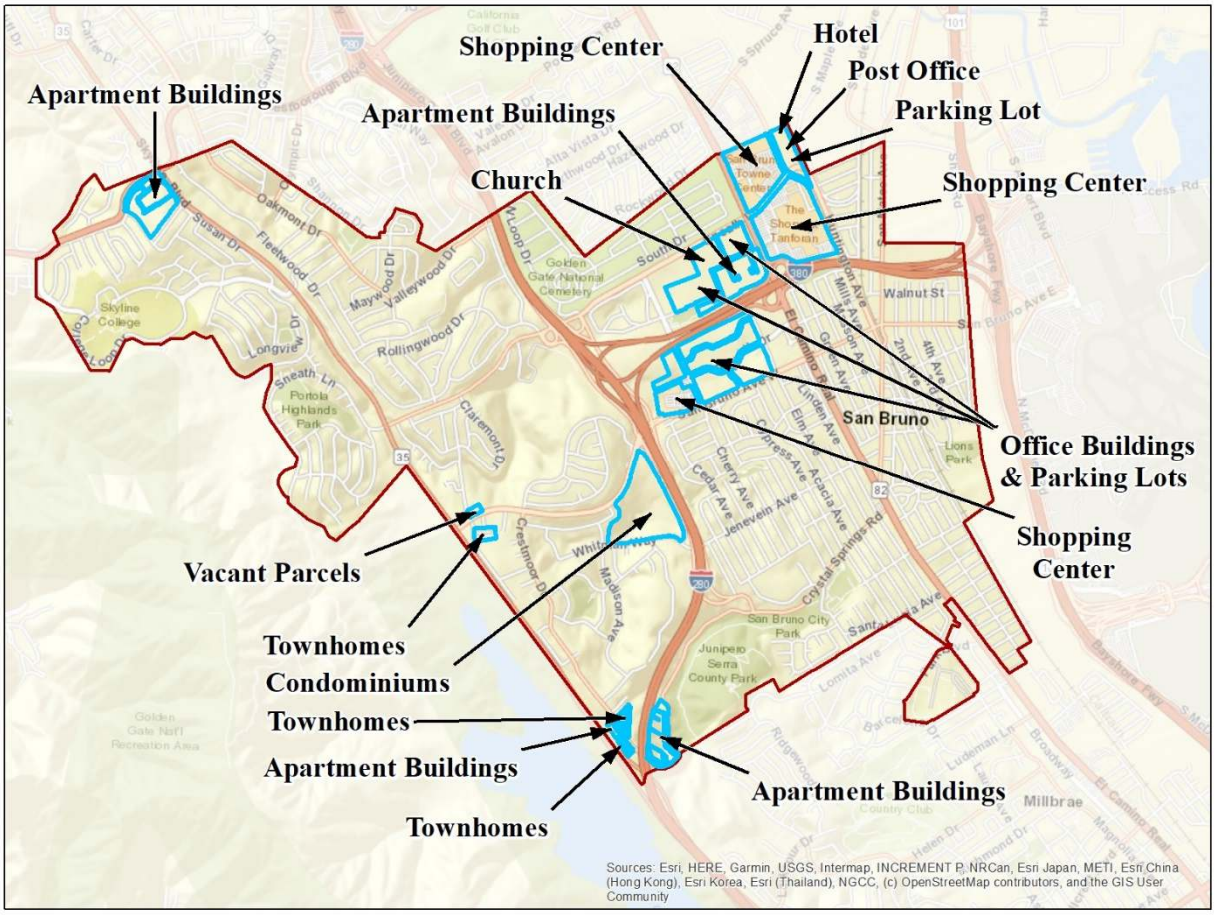
Three parcels were identified that are mostly or partly vacant but have some pavement on them. The impervious factors for these parcels were individually calculated.

P-D Zoning District - Vacant: 37,103 SF; Impervious Area: 3,450 SF; Impervious Percentage: 9.3

P-D Zoning District – Partly vacant with paving: 28,256 SF; Impervious Area: 19,828 SF; Impervious Percentage: 70

P-D Zoning District – Partly vacant with paving: 88,492 SF; Impervious Area: 29,464 SF; Impervious Percentage: 33

The land uses in P-D zoning districts are depicted in the following figure.



Undesignated (U) Zoning Districts Default PIF

Undesignated zoning districts consist of railroad rights of way and streets along Huntington Avenue and Montgomery Avenue in the northeastern part of the City. They consist mostly of street and parking lot pavement. They were assigned an impervious factor of 95 percent. This factor was chosen in part to be consistent with the 95 percent impervious factor for the Industrial, Central Business District, Neighborhood Commercial and Commercial Manufacturing zoning districts that adjoin the Undesignated zoning districts.

Common Area Calculations

There are several condominium developments in San Bruno:

- Peninsula Place Condominiums
- Shelter Creek Condominiums
- Cherry Avenue Villas

In this case, multiple owners occupy a single parcel. To allocate the fair share of the stormwater fee for each owner on a jointly-owned parcel, the impervious area of the parcel was divided by the number of owners on the parcel.

Example: a parcel in the R-4 Zoning district has an area of 50,000 square feet and contains 100 condominium units. The impervious factor for an R-4 parcel is 85 percent. The impervious area calculation is:

50,000 SF x 0.85/100 = 425 SF

SECTION 2.2 SUMMARY OF PIFS AND EXCEPTIONS

There are 14 different zoning designations within the City. The table below lists the various zoning designations and the PIFs determined for each zone.

The following table summarizes the various zoning categories, the number of parcels in each category, square footage, and acreage. In the table, where, due to "exception" parcels, total impervious area varies from what would be determined using the PIF, the PIF is shown as "varies." For those zones the total impervious area shown in the actual total found in exception parcels, plus the PIF derived amount for other parcels.

SECTION 4 – Revenue Requirements & Fee Calculations

SECTION 4.1 – Revenue Requirements

The drainage fees collected by the City will be used to fund the following items:

- Design and construct the required storm drain improvements, including new storm drain facilities needed to provide improved flood protection and replacement of the City's existing storm drain system, taking into account bond issuance and/or other financing costs, including incidental and administrative costs;
- Maintain, service, repair, operate and periodically replace the aforementioned improvements; and
- Administer the fee and the program of improvements, repairs, maintenance and replacements, including incidental and administrative costs.

In 2014, The City commissioned a Storm Drain Master Plan to identify localized flooding that had raised concerns from the impacted residents. The study identified improvement projects from a 25-year storm event analysis that exceeded the system's capacity in all six watershed areas. A new Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) was developed to address the system's capacity deficiency. The recommended improvements are shown in the table below. Costs have been escalated by 17.53%, representing the cumulative change in the San Francisco Construction Cost Index, in order to be expressed in current year dollars.

Priority	Project ID	Estimated Cost (2020$)	Description and Location	Constructed	Problem

SECTION 4.2 – ANNUITY CALCULATIONS

The City intends to design and construct the necessary storm drain improvements over a 30-year period. After all facilities have been constructed, the fee will continue to be levied as needed to fund annual maintenance and periodic repair and replacement. It is estimated that 85% of the construction will be funded within 20 years. The new and replaced facilities are summarized below.

New Construction Funding Needs (2020$)	$31,004,414
Capital Replacement Funding Needs (2020$)	$22,889,700
Total Funding Needs (2020$)	$53,894,114

The design and construction of the improvements will be funded by a combination of municipal bond issuances and pay-as-you-go funding. The annual budget needed to complete the recommended improvements is approximately $1.88 million per year.

In addition to the implementation of the recommended improvements, the City plans to add two regular maintenance workers. The existing operating expenditures plus the additional maintenance workers will come to $1,362,000 in 2022 dollars.

The $1.88 million in capital funding and the $1.36 million in operations and maintenance funding total the $3.24 million in annual expenditures that will be used to fund both requirements.

A cash flow financial analysis showing the issuance of three separate bonds in 2022, 2027 and 2032 is included in Appendix B.

SECTION 4.3 – FEE CALCULATION

In order to determine the fee for each parcel, the total impervious area within the City was estimated based on the zoning and lot size. The annual cost of $3.24 Million divided by the total impervious area of the City (64,946,619 sq. ft.) equates to $0.0498859 per sq. ft. of impervious area.

The following table summarizes the Median Fee for each land use.

Median Fee for Each Land Use

Zoning	No. Parcels	Median Fee
A-R	12	$476.25
C	219	$272.26
C-B-D	111	$178.66
C-M	11	$397.31
C-N	75	$169.17
C-O	6	$2,508.30
M-1	135	$236.96
O	59	$476.65
P-D	1,455	$54.91
R-1	8,755	$154.31
R-2	1,052	$171.92
R-3	38	$208.16
R-4	988	$52.76
U	18	$1,242.54

SECTION 4.3 – STORM DRAINAGE AND FLOOD PROTECTION FEE CALCULATIONS

The amount of the Storm Drainage and Flood Protection Fee for each individual parcel shall be computed as follows: Parcel square footage shall be multiplied by the percentage of impervious surface on the parcel. The resulting number shall be multiplied by the storm drain fee rate, which shall be the per square foot impervious surface rate in order to calculate the dollar amount of the fee. For the current fiscal year, the storm drain fee rate is $0.0498859.

The maximum annual rate shall be adjusted upward each year based on the San Francisco Bay Area Construction Cost Index (CCI) as published by Engineering News Record (ENR). When the maximum annual rate is adjusted for inflation, the annual fee levy may be adjusted accordingly for the following fiscal year. Likewise, when the impervious surface of a parcel is increased or decreased, the annual fee amount shall be adjusted for the fiscal year next succeeding the change in impervious surface.

The annual fee for each parcel within the City of San Bruno is included in Appendix A.

SECTION 5 – Proposition 218 Compliance

The following section details the proposed fee's compliance with Proposition 218.

Article XIII, Section D of the California Constitution (Proposition 218) Section 6.b of Prop. 218 sets forth the following key requirements for all new, extended, imposed or increased fees and charges:

1. "Revenues derived from the fee or charge shall not exceed the funds required to provide the property-related service."

Section 4 of this report details the expenditures required to make the necessary storm drain improvements and demonstrates that the fee will not exceed what is needed for construction, replacement, operations and maintenance.

2. "Revenues derived from the fee or charge shall not be used for any purpose other than that for which the fee or charge was imposed"

Section 4 of this report specifies all eligible expenditures and shows that will be no revenues available to spend on ineligible expenditures. If revenues do exceed the amount needed, the fee will be reduced accordingly.

3. "the amount of fee or charge imposed upon any parcel or person as an incident of property ownership shall not exceed the proportional cost of the service attributable to the parcel"

Section 2 demonstrates that the fee for each parcel will be proportional to the cost of the service attributable to such parcel. The methodology is based on the best available information and a benefit methodology that is accepted by the United States Environmental Protection Agency.

4. "No fee or charge may be imposed for a service unless that service is actually used by, or immediately available to, the owner of the property in question. Fees or charges based on potential or future use of service are not permitted. Standby charges, whether characterized as charges or assessments, shall be classified as assessments and shall not be imposed without compliance with (the assessment section of this code).

All parcels are assigned impervious surface measurements based on their current state of development – not on their potential to be developed.

5. "No fee or charge may be imposed for general governmental services including, but not limited to, police, fire, ambulance or library services where the service is available to the public at large in substantially the same manner as it is to the property owners.
